

$n = 40$

A diagram of a curved beam element. The beam is represented by a thick black curved line. At each end, there is a blue circular node. Node 1 is at the bottom left, and Node 2 is at the top right. A green line is drawn tangent to the beam at Node 2, representing the local coordinate system at that node.